SMCC Event Participant
Code of Conduct

The Sponsorship Marketing Council Canada (SMCC) is proud of its initiatives and aims to provide positive experiences for all attendees, speakers, exhibitors, volunteers, and staff. We expect all participants to show respect and courtesy toward one another at all events, including online activities. The Event Participant Code of Conduct describes the expectations and obligations associated with attendance at all events, sessions and webinars. As a condition of attendance, all participants must comply with the Event Participant Code of Conduct.

The following Code of Conduct has been developed to assist participants in achieving a level of conduct that will enable SMCC to ensure a safe environment for all in attendance.

- Participants acknowledge their participation in the event as a speaker, special guest or delegate for professional development, education and collaboration and agree to share ideas in accordance with the event's objectives.
- Participants agree not to self-promote, sell products or services to event attendees and vendors, and accept that any violation will result in immediate expulsion from the event and future SMCC events.
- SMCC does not tolerate harassment or violence in any form. If a participant engages in harassing behavior, the event organizers may act as appropriate, including expulsion from the event without refund.
- Participants deemed to have exhibited misconduct will have the privilege of attendance at future events revoked at the discretion of the Executive Committee.
